Oh! Columbia, thou hast taught us
The path that we should tread,
By thy rules of pride and honor
In our work and play we're led.
In the year of life's hard struggle
We care not what's in store,
For thy motto is our motto,
And our cry, "Excelsior!"

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1953, dedicate this yearbook to our new principal and friend, Mr. Robert L. Amsden. In his first year with us at Columbia High School he has demonstrated inspirational leadership and a warm understanding of young people. Mr. Amsden has been quick to realize the qualities of our school; and since his first talk to the student body, he has encouraged us to take advantage of the rich opportunities offered here. He has pointed out the many superior facilities both physical and educational and has urged every student to engage in some extra-curricular activity. Mr. Amsden has stressed the importance of the Student Council, and he has enthusiastically supported all activities proposed by that body.

All of us have come to recognize the sincere kindness and deep sense of responsibility that Mr. Amsden feels toward each member of our student body. In one short year at Columbia High School he has made countless friends among the students. All of us who have worked with him on school affairs have witnessed his exceptional talent for leading young people.

We, the Class of 1953, are both honored and pleased to be the first class to graduate under the administration of Mr. Robert L. Amsden.

CLASS HISTORY

It's actually happened. This is the end of our stay at Columbia. We're graduating, the class of 1953. We should be thinking of our future, but all that comes to our minds is memories of the three wonderful years that we have spent at Columbia High School.

The first year our class was about the same as most sophomore classes. We did our homework, went to football games, sat in the cheering-section, and got caught up in the mad whirl of extra-curricular activities that characterize Columbia. We joined various clubs, went out for sports, attended sophomore briefing sessions for the "Columbian," and worked on committees until our heads spun. A good many of us joined the Sophomore Dramatic Club, and had a hand in the production of the two assembly plays and the radio play which the Club presented. Our sophomore year was the first year in the school's history that girls were allowed to join the band; this provided another opportunity for some of us to participate in school activities. We took the Kuder Preference Test, which gave us guidance in choosing our careers and determining what we wanted to do when we left Columbia. But leaving Columbia was far from our minds during our sophomore year.

Our junior year was full of fun, work, and excitement. It started off with Columbia winning the state football championship. What noise at that assembly when we were presented with the trophy! Then came the Christmas assembly, when Parnassian presented that wonderful pantomime, "The Doctor of Lonesome Folk," which was done so well.

Naturally, the highlight of the year was Junior Night. You could call us pioneers, because our class didn't follow the tradition of putting on a musical comedy. We staged a musical revue, "On Your Mark." The songs were wonderful: "Bubblin' Brook," "Get on Your Mark," "I Left My Love Behind," and all the others. The skits were riotous. We certainly can be proud of our Junior Night.

We had a lot of fun as juniors; it was exciting, too, especially during election time. The elections were important to us, because we were choosing the members of our own class who would guide us during our senior year. Most of us took it quite seriously, and we all gained good practical experience in voting.

All of us would like to thank Mr. Sheeley for doing such a magnificent job as principal during our junior year after Mr. Crehan's untimely death. Mr. Sheeley contributed immensely to the success of the school, and we, the class of 1953, deeply appreciate his efforts.

Finally—our senior year. The first important thing that happened was meeting our new principal, Mr. Amsden, and finding out what a wonderful person he is. National elections also occupied our thoughts during the early part of the year, and most of us took more notice of politics and world affairs than we had done before, for we discussed the election in class and learned a good deal about the functions of our government.

Of course an important event of the year was the Senior Play. The Play Reading Committee had been busy all summer, reading plays and deciding which to bring to the class to vote on. We broke traditions again as we had done with Junior Night by choosing "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder, for this play wasn't a comedy, as most previous Senior Plays had been. "Our Town" was a drama of everyday life, done without scenery and with few props, and so a good deal of the action was in pantomime. This really was a challenge to the cast, but they came through with flying colors. Everyone said "Our Town" was one of the best senior productions ever presented at Columbia.

Many other events of note took place during our last year. An intramural touch football league was organized, and many of the boys took an active part in it. We were all interested in the movement to obtain a driver-education course for Columbia students, and most of us wish that we could have taken advantage of such a course, for we feel that learning to drive well is an important part of education. Another event this year was the special assembly program honoring Mr. Marshall Bartholomew, the well-known composer and arranger who graduated in Columbia's class of 1902.

Graduation is just a few days away now. How we hate the thought of leaving. Others must have felt the same way. But there are memories to take us back. We will always remember the three wonderful years we spent here, and we'll do our best to make Columbia High School proud of the class of 1953.

End of the Road

SENIOR PROPHECY

Every afternoon, as I finish my school day, I stop in at the neighborhood tavern for the usual glass of celery tonic. But today there was a new bartender, and instead of celery tonic, he slipped me a shot of root beer. Unaccustomed as I am to alcoholic beverages, I was knocked by this devilish potion clear into the next generation.

There I was, suddenly catapulted by a capricious bartender into the year 1984. Contrary to the predictions of George Orwell, no "Big Brother" signs were to be seen. I found myself in a large metropolis, named Kasenville after the dark horse candidate who had trotted into the office of city veterinarian. Kasen, helped by unscrupulous city-boss Stuart Silvers, had, with the aid of statistician Frank Miller, stopped the pound from "going to the dogs."

Since root beer addicts are notably curious, I carefully investigated my surroundings. The first familiar sight I saw was Martin Mink, who was wearing around his neck a large sign saying, "Slick Spacemen Select Pressurized Suits at M---k's." He invited me to come with him to the "On Your Mark" theater, where Jim Moss and Beth Rosenberg were starring in the new show "Kiss of Fire," produced by Jean Forkel. I found a seat just in time to see the tail end of a Krueger and Sarles comedy routine. Sitting next to me was Marianne McKenna, famous columnist, who writes "Kasenville Karousel." On my other side sat Tony Levy, famed disc jockey and music critic. As electrician Jack Kineke dimmed the houselights, my ears were greeted with the melodic sounds of "Bubblin' Brook," written by the queen of Tin Can Alley, Mady Green, and sung by Bev Kapp. A purple spotlight shot forward and there before me were Bob Brown, Pete Siebert, Jerry Dunham, and Dave Cook playing music so cool that frost began to form on the windowpanes. Gary Tischler was next on the program. In tearful oratory he begged for contributions to the Unemployed Actor's Fund. Sandy Fox followed Gary with an amazingly realistic imitation of a seventeen year old girl gone completely insane. Margery Behrendt and Carol McKim then danced to "Rhapsody in Purple," by Judy Marcus. Erik Heystek, next on the bill, crooned one of those beautiful love songs which have made him famous all over the country. Jerry Tumarkin, displaying his timeless capacity for modesty, ended the show on a delicate note by zooming in through one of the windows in a red and black rocket ship, and crashing into Bob Brown's bass drum.

When the show ended, the audience rose as one man, and he left. I hurried out to the street, just in time to catch a glimpse of Bea Melter, the girl whom a poll of spaceship mechanics had named, "The Person I Would Most Like To Be Stranded On a Planet With." After buying a copy of the Kasenville Columbian, edited by journalist Marianne Durand, I tossed a nickel to John Loeser who was strumming his guitar on the street corner, and settled down on one of the comfortable park benches provided by city treasurer Tom Dailey. "Mancinelli Jumps From Rocket Ship Without Parachute" was in large print at the top of the paper. Underneath it was a picture of channel swimmer Jim Karkus, taken by the omnipresent cameraman Hal Cohen. Other headlines were, "Magnus, O'Neill, and Killough Star in Revival of Wilder Classic," "Woodward Disproves Einstein, Says 'Theory Obsolete'," "Bill Davies Flies Toy Plane to Mars," "Miners Strike Against Sickley Coal Mines," "Paul Hoffman Leads Picketers," "Margaret Remondelli Leads Crusade To Wipe Out Dirty Dealing in Sanitation Dept.," and "Claire Gormley Involved in Fur Coat Scandal."

Somewhat satiated with newspaper headlines, I strolled over to the athletic stadium, where the Olympic Games were being played. Bob Bergoffen, Ray Ellison, Avy Gross, and Jack Bird, representing the U.S. swimming team, had just succeeded copping the men's twenty yard medley relay dog paddle. On the track Roy Faulstick, rather fatigued from his two mile sprint, joined speedsters Carl Hauser, Jim Rose, and Paul Stille in a denunciation of sports scribe Bruce Wood, who had recently berated them for having "one track minds." Monique Kastner, Gail Burkett, Judy Hemhauser, and Ceil Nardone, the cheerleaders, despite their forty-five odd years, were clapping madly for the basketball team. Challenger and Douglass had just set the world record for set shots made during pre-game practice.

But I was feeling rather sadistic, so I crossed town to the Kasenville Cougars football practice. Coach Sonny Scola was putting Clyde Ronnie, Ray Van Orden, Frank McGrath, Warren Davis, and Ricky Ericsson through their paces in preparation for tomorrow's big game with the Kasenville Home for the Aged.

Baseball season not yet having concluded, I dropped in at the Universe Series. Ray Rizzuto was slugging away as usual, helped by moundsmen Turner and Hartman and catcher Sal Rizzolo. Far off in the distance I could see Jim Quinn lazily bouncing a tennis ball off a convenient garage. His yearning plea "Tennis Anyone?" echoed across the plains of Kasenville.

My hangover was beginning to wear off, and I just had time to pay my respects to the Town Museum. Rather amazed by the fact that everyone at the gallery was standing on his head, I asked the caretaker. "It's Judy Aron's and Eva Fleg's Ancient Art Show" he remarked.

One root beer cannot last forever, though. Its effect worn off, I awoke somewhat dazed, on the floor of the neighborhood tavern. Shocked by my awesome experience, I have joined "Root Beer Unanimous" and have resolved never never to touch anything stronger than celery tonic.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Class of '53, being of sound mind (we think so, anyway) and body (except when in gym class) do hereby submit, present, and bequeath to the faculty and members of the student body a legacy, henceforth and hereafter to be known as the Senior Class Will.

- Item 1. I, Peter Kasen, leave "Kasen's Korner" to any other dark horse who deserves to win an election.
- Item 2. We, June Borneman and Sandy Fox, leave our never failing store of energy and our secret of keeping people laughing to Sandra Scoppetone and Gretchen Hughes.
- Item 3. I, Sonny Scola, leave my versatility in sports to any junior, twice my size who's half as good.
- Item 4. I, Gail Burkett, leave my cute smile and nice personality to Willa Selenfriend and Nancy Murchison.
- Item 5. I, Peter Kastner, leave my ability to know everyone and to be liked by everyone who
- Item 6. I, 'Laine Beers, leave my Ipana smile and Palmolive complexion to Judy Barnes.
- Item 7. I, Ray Van Orden, leave my shyness except when on the football field to Dick Van Cleave.
- Item 8. We, Stuart Silvers, Jay Woodward, Alice Moriarty, and Madeleine Green, are taking our high averages with us.
- Item 9. To the class guides we leave all our college catalogues.
- Item 10. I, Warren Davis, leave to any junior girl who wants it the secret of how to lose twenty pounds.
- Item 11. I, Shirley Failla, leave my ability never to wear the same thing twice to Diane Schueler.
- Item 12. We, Bea Melter, Jean Forkel, and Barbara Webster, leave our never ending and time consuming work on committees to Sue Fresh, Connie Williams, and Ruth Hollander.
- Item 13. We, Liz Kuster and Bill Wogisch, leave our inseparability to Sandy Cushman and Paul Grinwis.
- Item 14. To future chairmen of the girls' lunchroom committee we leave a cafeteria full of bald girls.
- Item 15. I, Sandy Samuels, leave my dimples to Shirley Mellotte.
- Item 16. We, Sarah Schoenkopf and Tony Levy, leave to any Giants fan the excuses we used on opening day. See you at the Polo Grounds.
- Item 17. We, Bobbie Rhodes and Muriel Szeremany, leave our knack of always looking well-groomed to Ruth Rissland and Ann Walthart.
- Item 18. I, Barry Mackta, leave to Walter Fanburg whatever it is that causes a girl to wish "You Belong To Me" were her theme song.
- Item 19. I, Al Suter, leave my many Charles Atlas books to Larry Chambers.
- Item 20. To the faculty we leave the front row spaces in the parking lot.
- Item 21. We, Judy Hemhauser and Claire Gormley, leave our freckles and good looks to Ann Thompson.
- Item 22. We, Bev Kapp, Marion Domber, and Lynda MacCoy, leave our "completely natural blond tresses" to Nancy Ahlgren, Anne Auerbacher, and Joan Orange.
- Item 23. We, the Ainbinders, Blumbergs, Daileys, Patersons, Wogisches, McCullens, Mareiniss', Peffs, Hovers and Sterns leave Columbia High School a bit confused.
- Item 24. We, Bob Brown and Jerry Tumarkin, leave with all of our crazy antics, much to the joy of the teachers and the sorrow of the students.
- Item 25. To the girls' physical education department we leave a senior girl who takes gym every Friday.
- Item 26. I, Hal Cohen, hereafter leave the job of fixing the telephones to the maintenance staff.
- Item 27. We, Arthur Gold, Margaret Remondelli, and Marianne Durand, leave our day-of-the-deadline headaches to the editors of next year's Columbian.
- Item 28. We, the officers and council members of 1952-53, leave Columbia High School a finer school for having served it.
- Item 29. I, Ben Feldman, leave my many unforgettable parties to anyone who dares.
- Item 30. We, Joan McCullen, Barbara Bergmann, and Mary Heery, leave the fun we had with G.A.A. to Maxine Groffsky, and Lois Roemmele.
- Item 31. I, Jim Rose, leave to Malcolm McClinchie my curly hair, singing voice, and self-assurance.
- Item 32. To Mr. Currier, we leave a thirty year contract with N.B.C.
- Item 33. I, John Loeser, leave my ability to take five majors, co-edit the Mirror, head the Traditions Committee, and still come out tops to anyone who has the courage.
- Item 34. We, the girls of the senior class, leave to the girls of the junior class the privilege of going to the movies unescorted on Friday nights.
- Item 35. I, Monique Kastner, leave my healthy appearance to Bev Ogden.
- Item 36. To Mr. Amsden we leave the hope that he likes Columbia as much as Columbia likes him.
- Item 37. I, Margie Roth, leave my "personality" to Gail Henston.
- Item 38. We, Ricky Ericsson and Jack Bird, leave our "nothing-more-to-be-desired" good looks to Bob Weaver and Bob MacDonald.
- Item 39. To Miss Lipcsei we leave classes which instinctively know how to spell her name.
- Item 40. I, Jim Quinn, leave to Charlie Williams my daddy-long-legs-build.
- Item 41. We, Doris Magnus and Gary Tischler, leave our flair for the footlights to Claire Lu Thomas and Joe Carter.
- Item 42. I, Doris Oppenheimer, leave my petiteness and delightfully naïve manner to June Blechmann.
- Item 43. To the United States History teachers we leave senior classes who will remember something about ninth grade history.
- Item 44. We, the musicians of the class of 1953, leave our musical talent to Anita Katchen.
- Item 45. I, Alice Bloom, leave my ability to have four appointments in one afternoon and to keep all of them to Judy Stein.
- Item 46. We, Jeanette Fritts and Ceil Nardone, leave our sister and brother, respectively. We don't think they'll be lonely without us.
- Item 47. To Mr. Talbot's future classes we leave complete unabridged dictionaries.
- Item 48. We, Judy Aron and Eva Fleg, leave our artistic ability to Pat Grant and Margie Tritsch.
- Item 49. I, Sally Cook, leave my Southern charm to be spread liberally among the junior girls.
- Item 50. I, Jimmy Karkus, leave my water wings and inner tube to Bob Rose.
- Item 51. I, Marianne McKenna, leave my flame-red hair to Jo Ann Bausmith with the hope that someday people will stop calling me Jo Ann.
- Item 52. We, Margie Behrendt and Carol McKim, leave our Pavlova like dancing to Nancy Carroll.
- Item 53. We, the graduating class, leave to the faculty and members of the student body our sincere best wishes for the future, and the knowledge that we will always remember our three years at Columbia, the fun we had in all of our school activities, and the friends we have made.

OUR TOWN

In choosing their Senior Play the Class of 1953 departed from the usual pattern of previous years to present Thornton Wilder's extraordinary and moving drama, Our Town. This play depicts the life of a typical New England town at the beginning of the twentieth century. The first act shows "The Daily Life" of the town; the second act, "Love and Marriage." In the third act, Wilder brings back the spirit of his dead heroine to point up his theme—that life is too wonderful to be fully realized by anyone alive. Wilder makes a plea to his audience to stop just for a moment and try to realize all the wonderful things life holds for us every single day.

In order to present this most unusual play, Wilder enlists the imagination of his audience. All scenery and most properties are dispensed with, and the audience is asked to supply them mentally, with the help of some pantomime by the actors.

However, the use of pantomime presented some strange problems in rehearsals. The actors had a difficult time finding the handle of a door that wasn't there or eating breakfast from a bare table. The Sound Effects boys had no easy task either, simulating such sounds as a horse's hooves, chickens, and a lawnmower.

After six weeks of rehearsal, the Class of 1953's production of Our Town was presented on the evenings of November 21 and 22. The reception it received was a full reward for the hard work of the director, Miss Mary F. Clutton, and all who contributed: cast, crew, and the many committees.

JUNIOR NIGHT

This year's Junior Night, "Top Secret," employed the "play within a play" technique. The show revolved around the class of '54's preparation for its production, depicting college life in the "roaring twenties." This background opened a large field for music and dances; "Top Secret" rocked with the Charleston and the Black Bottom. Almost everyone in the Junior Class participated in the production.

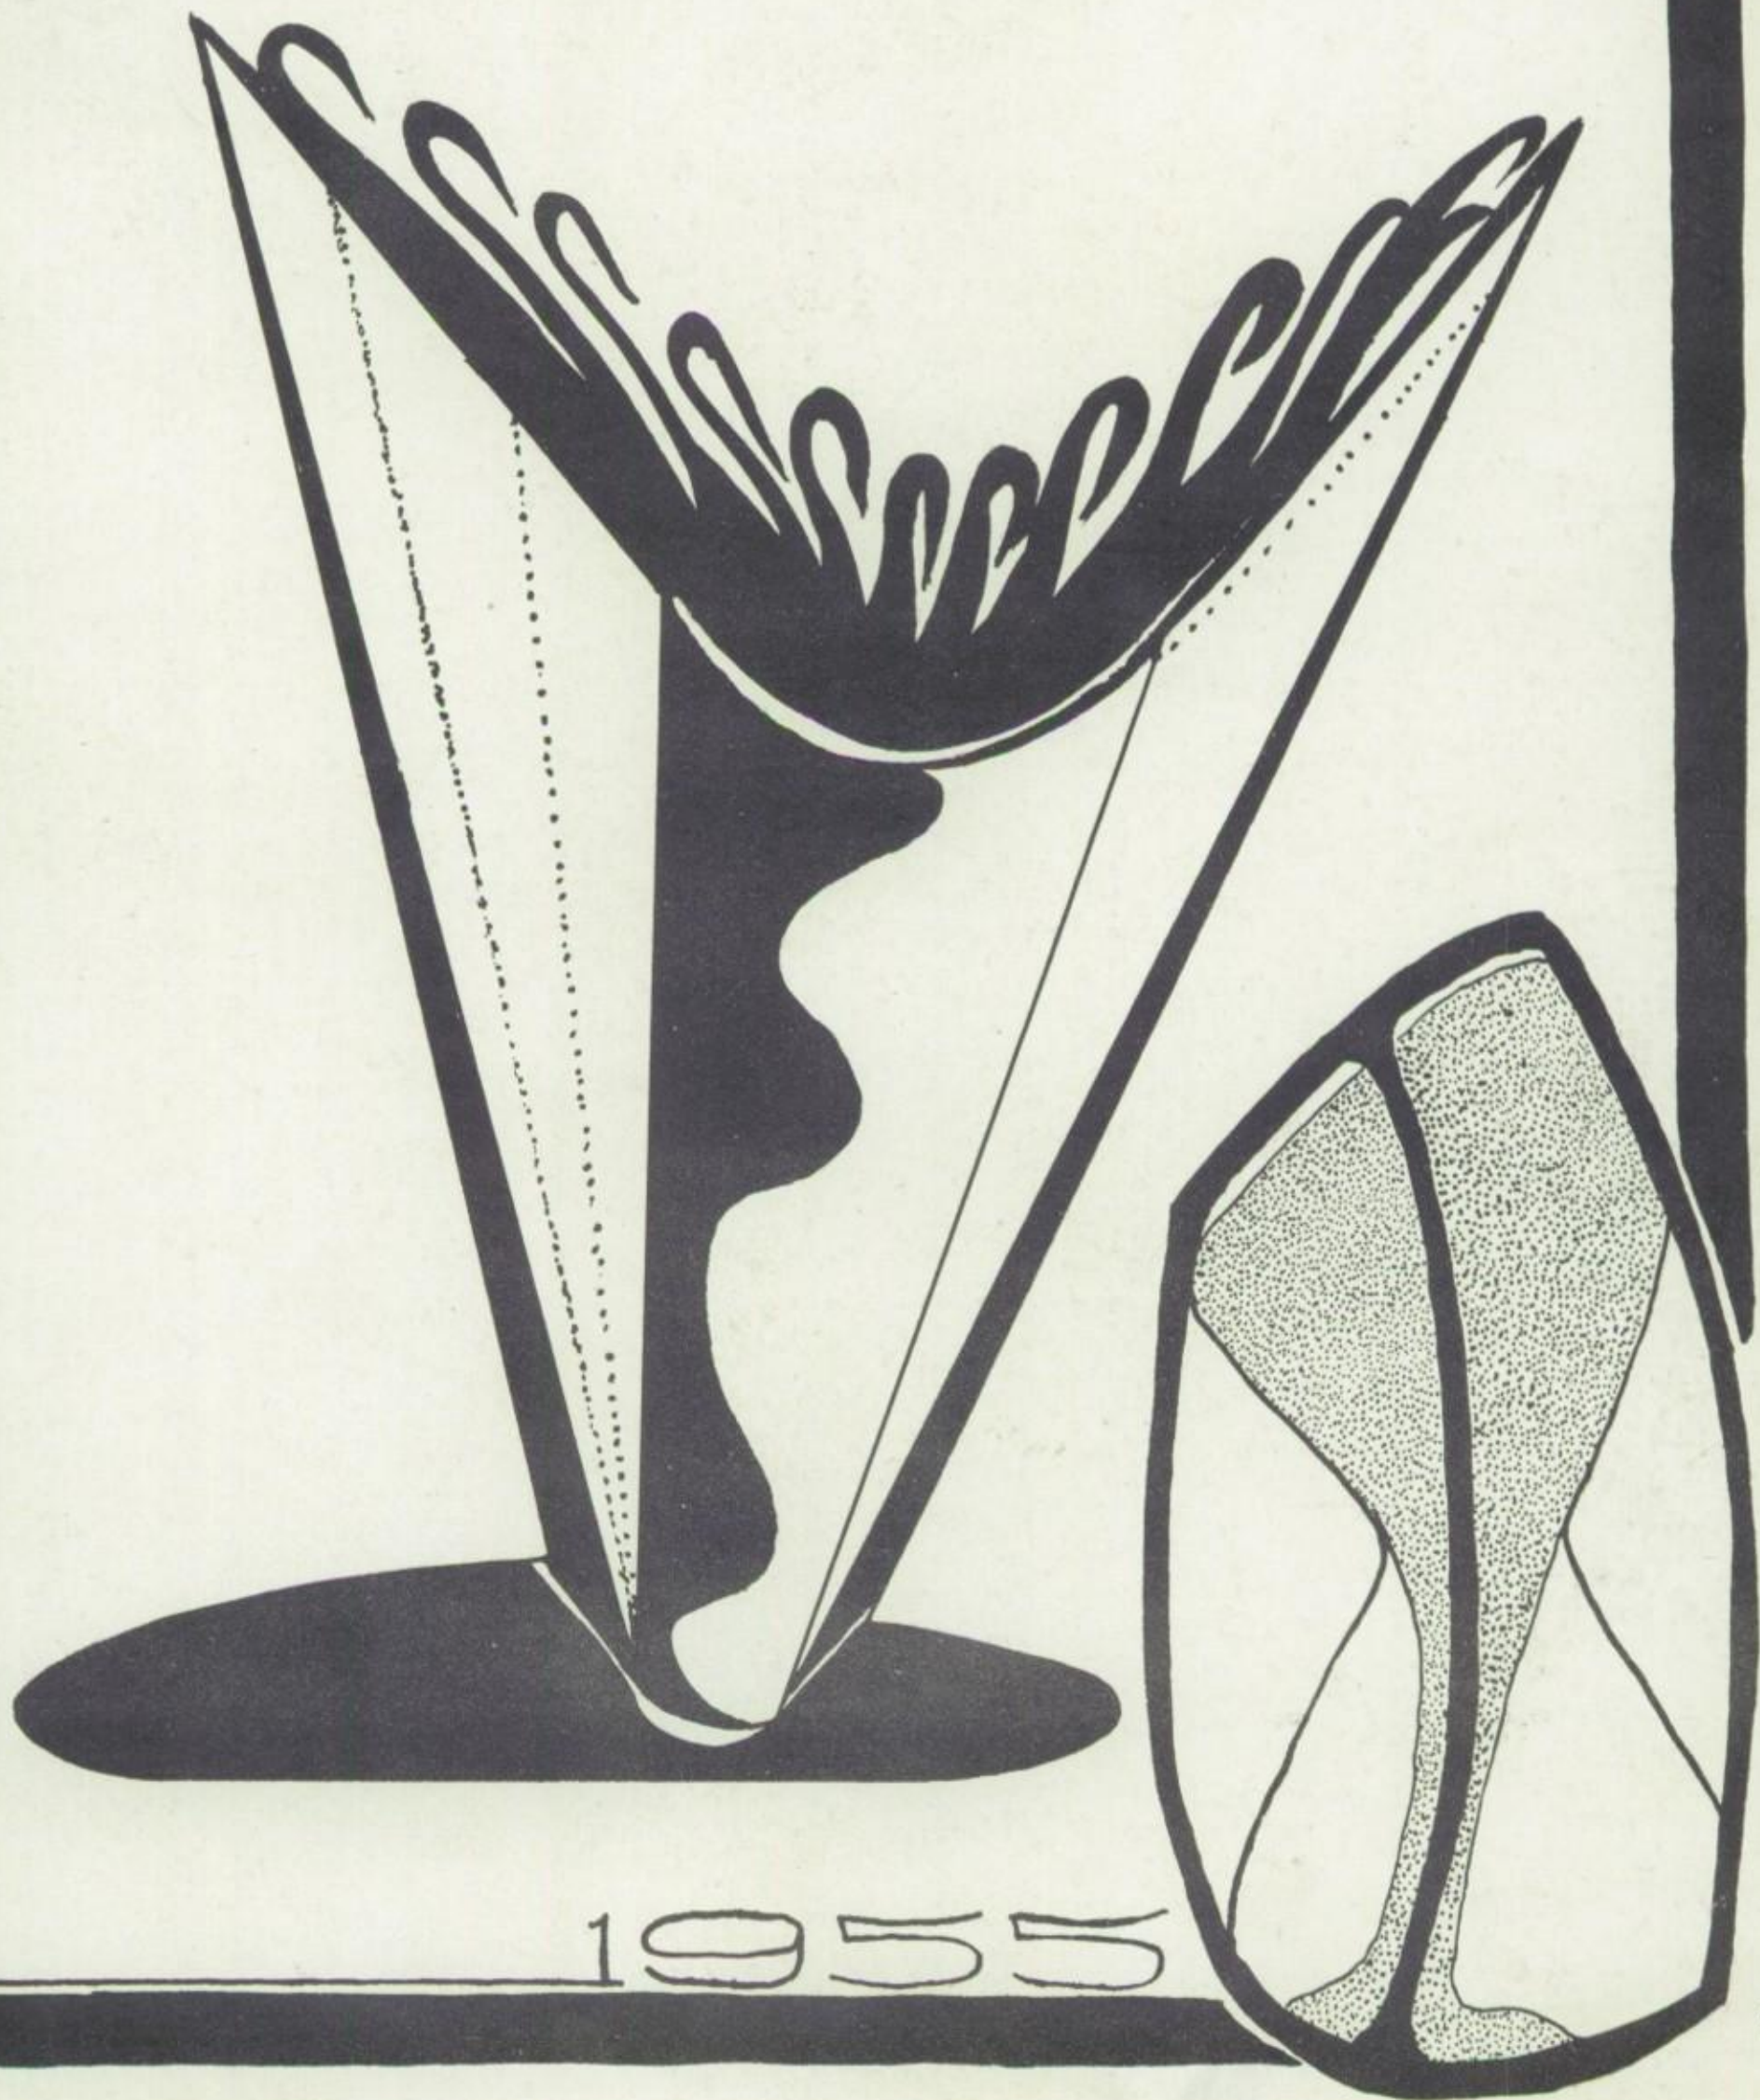

A great deal of credit for the success of "Top Secret" is due to the Production Director, Mr. Alex Reed; the Musical Director, Mr. F. Russell Shenton; and the Dance Directors, Miss Marguerite Kuhlman and Miss Alice Pesh.

In keeping with the Junior Night tradition, "Top Secret" was a gay production, with many lively songs, dances, and talented performers. It was the kind of a show which is as much fun for the cast as for the audience.

The first offering of this year's Sophomore Dramatic Club was a one-act comedy by John Kirkpatrick entitled A New School of Wives.

The story concerned the problems brought upon the Dunlap family by the attempts of the daughter of the house, Ellen Dunlap, to "find herself." The advice of Ellen's three school friends, each a most distinct type, only succeeds in making Ellen feel all the more that she lacks a distinctive personality. However, Ellen's problem is solved when she finds that her boy friend, Warren Price, doesn't mind at all if she is not an outstanding type.

A New School of Wives, directed by Miss Ida Grace Alexander, delighted the student body. The Sophomore Dramatic Club launched its activities for the year with great success.

1953 FOOTBALL

KEARNY 14, COLUMBIA 7 — An incomplete pass to Ray Van Orden in the Kearny end zone with 16 seconds to play ended the Cougars' hopes of a tie and their string of twelve straight wins. Frank McGrath ran 55 yards for the lone Gem touchdown.

PLAINFIELD 29, COLUMBIA 6 — In a game during which Leo Nardone, Sal Rizzolo and Al Suter all were replaced due to injuries, the Cougars absorbed their worst drubbing of the year. Olympian Milt Campbell scored three touchdowns and set up a safety.

COLUMBIA 20, MORRISTOWN 7 — Paced by Frank McGrath, who picked up 187 yards besides scoring a T.D. the Gem point parade came to life for the only time during the '52 campaign. An end run by Clyde Ronnie accounted for the second T.D. while Richie Van Cleave made the final tally.

ORANGE 18, COLUMBIA 6 — Columbia was unable to match the efforts of the 'Tornadoes' T.D. twins Tony Belardo and Tom Henderson. An off tackle slash by quarterback Sonny Scola was the amount of scoring done that day by the Red and Black.

COLUMBIA 6, WESTFIELD 6 — The final gun found the Hoff-men on the Westfield one foot line. "Crazy Legs" McGrath tallied for Columbia from the one yard line in the first period.

MONTCLAIR 27, COLUMBIA 6 — By holding the unbeaten Mounties to four touchdowns the Gems have the distinction of being one of two teams to hold Montclair to less than 38 points this year. The Montclair win avenged a 26-7 set back last year.

NEW BRUNSWICK 21, COLUMBIA 7 — Once again Frank McGrath handled the Gem scoring going 35 yards for the tally. Sonny Scola made the extra point. Bill Dutka paced the Zebra attack with two touchdowns.

EAST ORANGE 19, COLUMBIA 12 — Spearheaded by Frank McGrath, who picked up 98 yards, including a 64 yard dash; Columbia picked up a 12-7 lead before succumbing to the Panthers at Martens' Stadium. Soph Dick Mercadante and Senior Rick Ericcson made six pointers.

WEST ORANGE 12, COLUMBIA 6 — Going into the final period with a 6-0 lead, the Cougars were hit by West Orange lightning twice. The winning T.D. came with less than a minute to play on a 75 yard interception return of a Leo Nardone pass.

SENIOR LETTERMEN

Warren Davis, 5'10" 195 lbs.—Warren played both as offensive center and defensive line backer late in the season.

Ricky Ericcson, 6'1" 190 lbs.—Rick was there to make the needed tackles besides pulling down Nardone aerals.

Bill Hartke, 5'10" 159 lbs.—The rougher the action the better Bill liked it.

Chuck Hoover, 5'9" 180 lbs.—Chuck saw action as a guard, coming along fast at the close of the year.

Al Lambert, 5'11" 179 lbs.—Al was always in there fighting from his tackle position.

Frank McGrath, 6' 178 lbs.—Frank was the big gun in the Cougars' backfield, scoring 30 points besides playing on defense when needed.

Don Ort, 5'8" 150 lbs.—Don was ready whenever needed at the pivot position.

Sal Rizzolo, 5'8" 159 lbs.—Sal came back after being injured at Plainfield to play a terrific defensive game.

Clyde Ronnie, 5'11" 155 lbs.—A backfield operative Clyde played both on offense and defense.

Jim Rose, 6'2" 190 lbs.—Jim saw considerable action during the campaign as an end.

Sonny Scola, 5'8" 144 lbs.—Sonny saw action mostly as the "shifty little signal caller". He bootlegged around end in the Kearny game very successfully.

Bob Sickley, 5'8" 145 lbs.—Bob was one of the boys responsible for the good game against Montclair.

Paul Stille, 5'8" 145 lbs.—Paul, a track man, was one of the faster backs on the team.

Al Suter, 5'10" 191 lbs.—The '52 Captain performed capably as defensive backer-up.

Ray Van Orden, 6'4" 190 lbs.—Ray was the fifth man in the East Orange backfield.

Bruce Wallin, 6'3" 200 lbs.—Bruce was this year's shower room comedian.

Bill Wogisch, 5'9" 150 lbs.—Bill specialized in getting down under those punts.

COLUMBIA 55

NUTLEY 54

After dropping seven in a row the Cougars launched a three-game winning streak by whipping Nutley. Columbia didn't relinquish the lead in the fourth quarter and three days later Kearny fell 56-50.

MONTCLAIR 55

COLUMBIA 43

Once again the Gems fell in the final period. Leading by six at half time, Columbia dropped two points behind at the end of the third period. However, the unbeaten Mounties spearheaded by Aubrey Lewis's 26 points won the game going away.

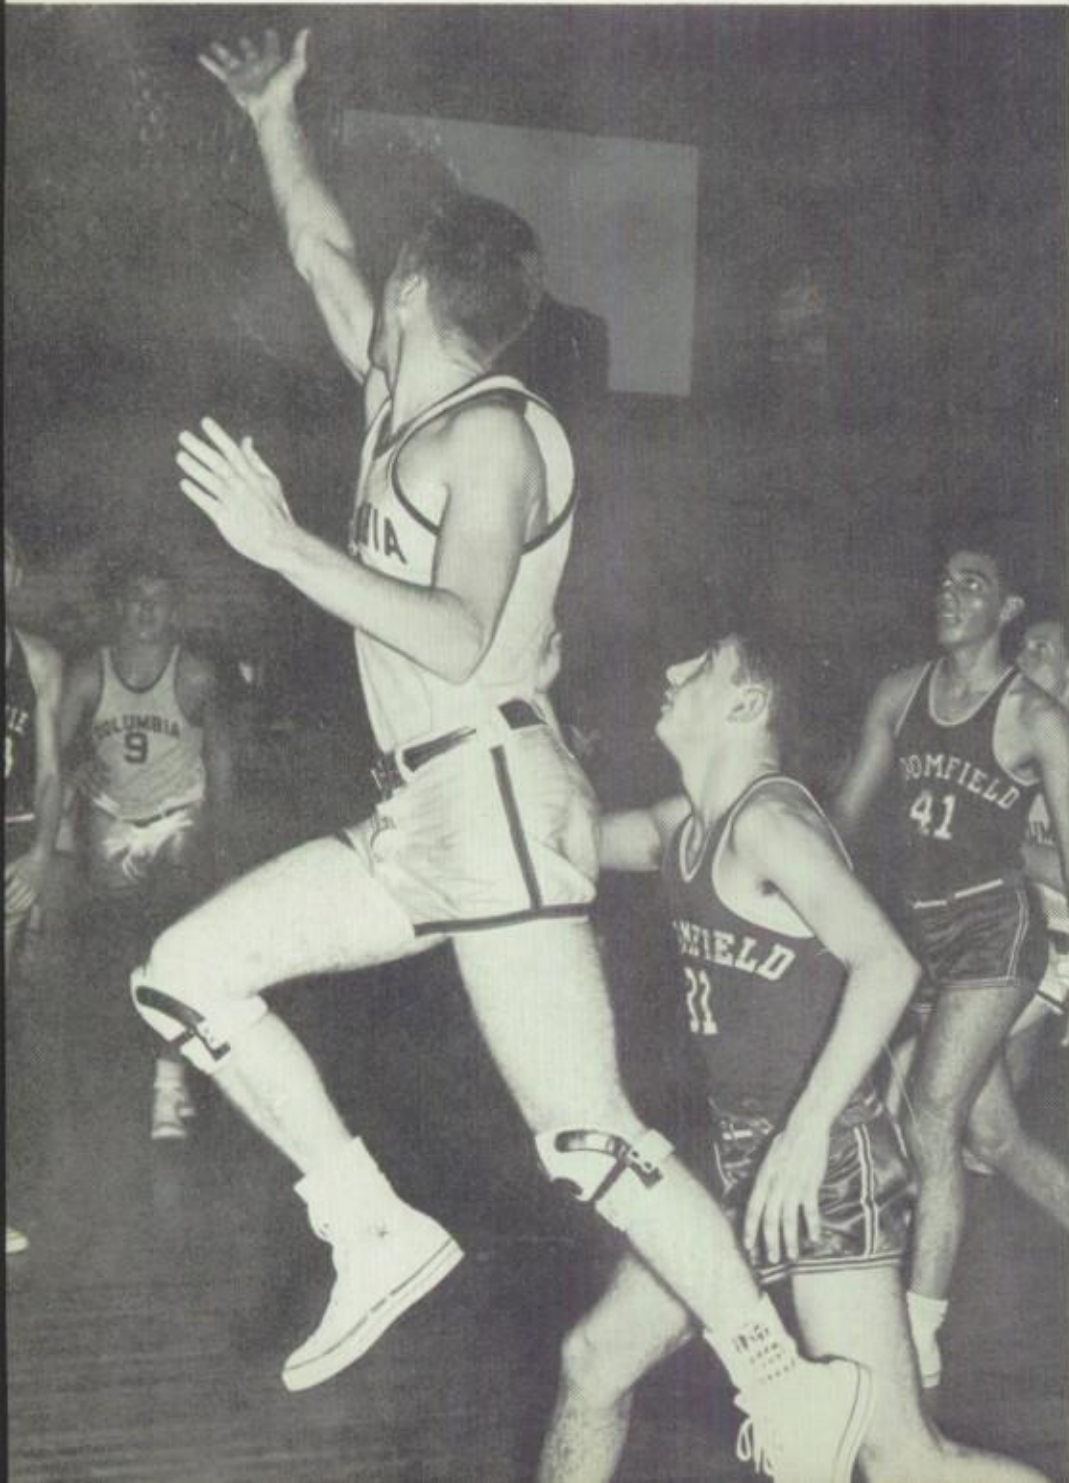

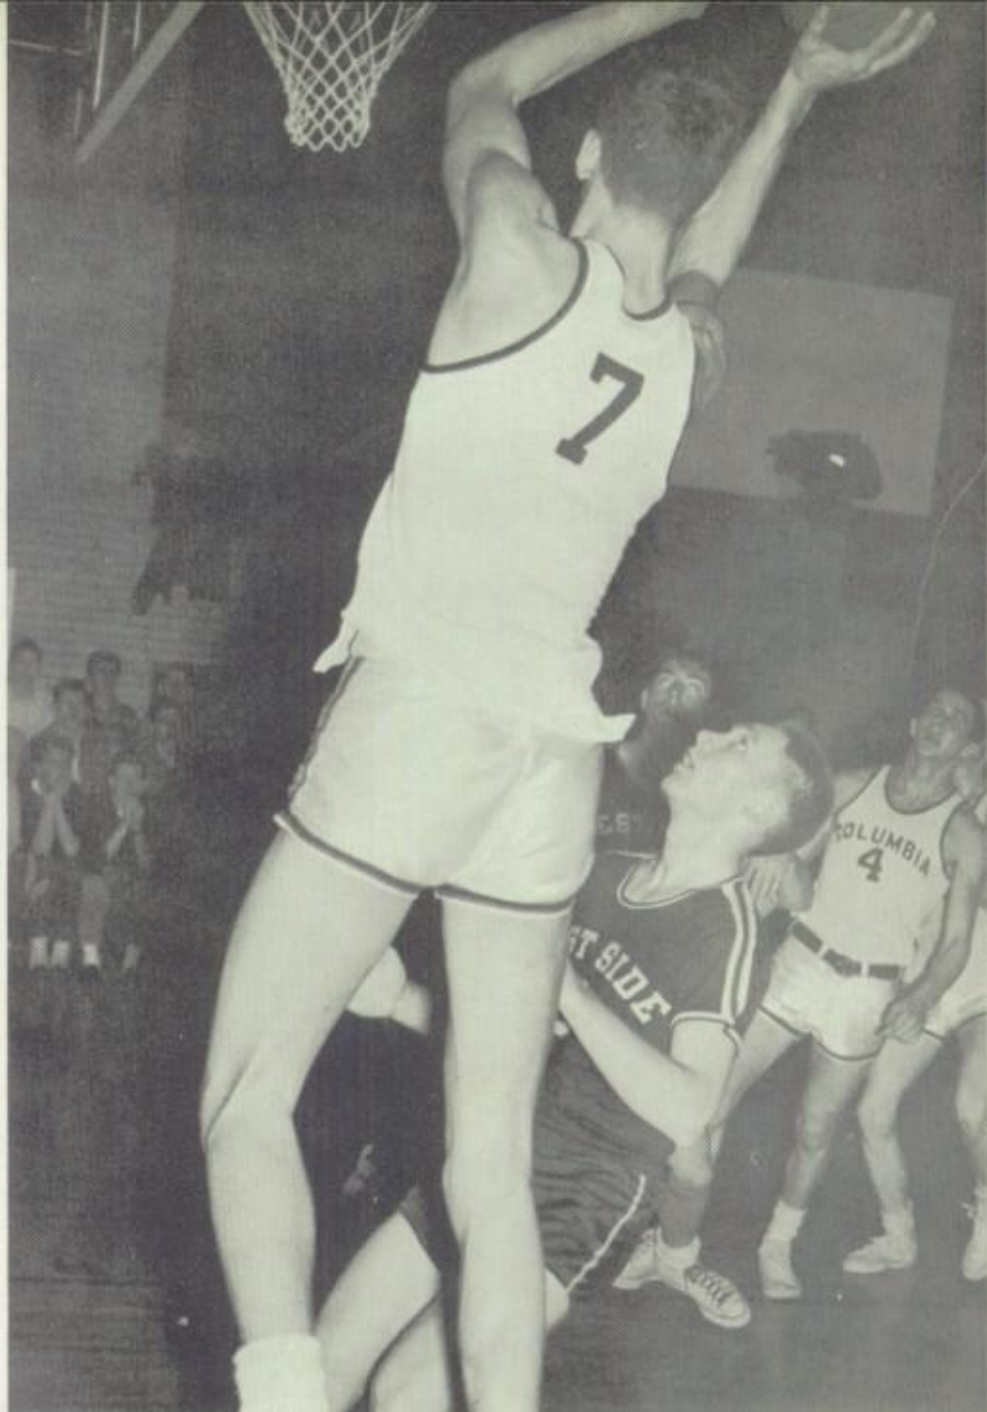

IRVINGTON 66

COLUMBIA 59

The Gems played one of the best games of the year but lost to Irvington 66-59. The Gems hit for 40% of their field goals and actually threw in more two pointers than the Camptowners did. However, Irvington's proficiency at the foul line proved to be the difference. Tom Dailey has high man of the game with 28 points.

ROY NUTTALL, Coach

SENIOR LETTERMEN

TOM DAILEY

Big Tom, the 6'4" center, found it difficult to miss a hook shot and against Orange sunk 90% of his shots. Also, Tom was the club's most effective foul shooter sinking 14 fouls in one game.

JOHNNY CHALLENGER

Probably the best defense man on the club, Johnny was one of the most aggressive players to see action this year. John was hampered only by his erratic jump shot.

RICKY ERICSSON

Rick was the powerhouse of the team and found it difficult to leave his football playing on the gridiron. However, he was a tower of strength under the defensive backboard.

PHIL DOUGLASS

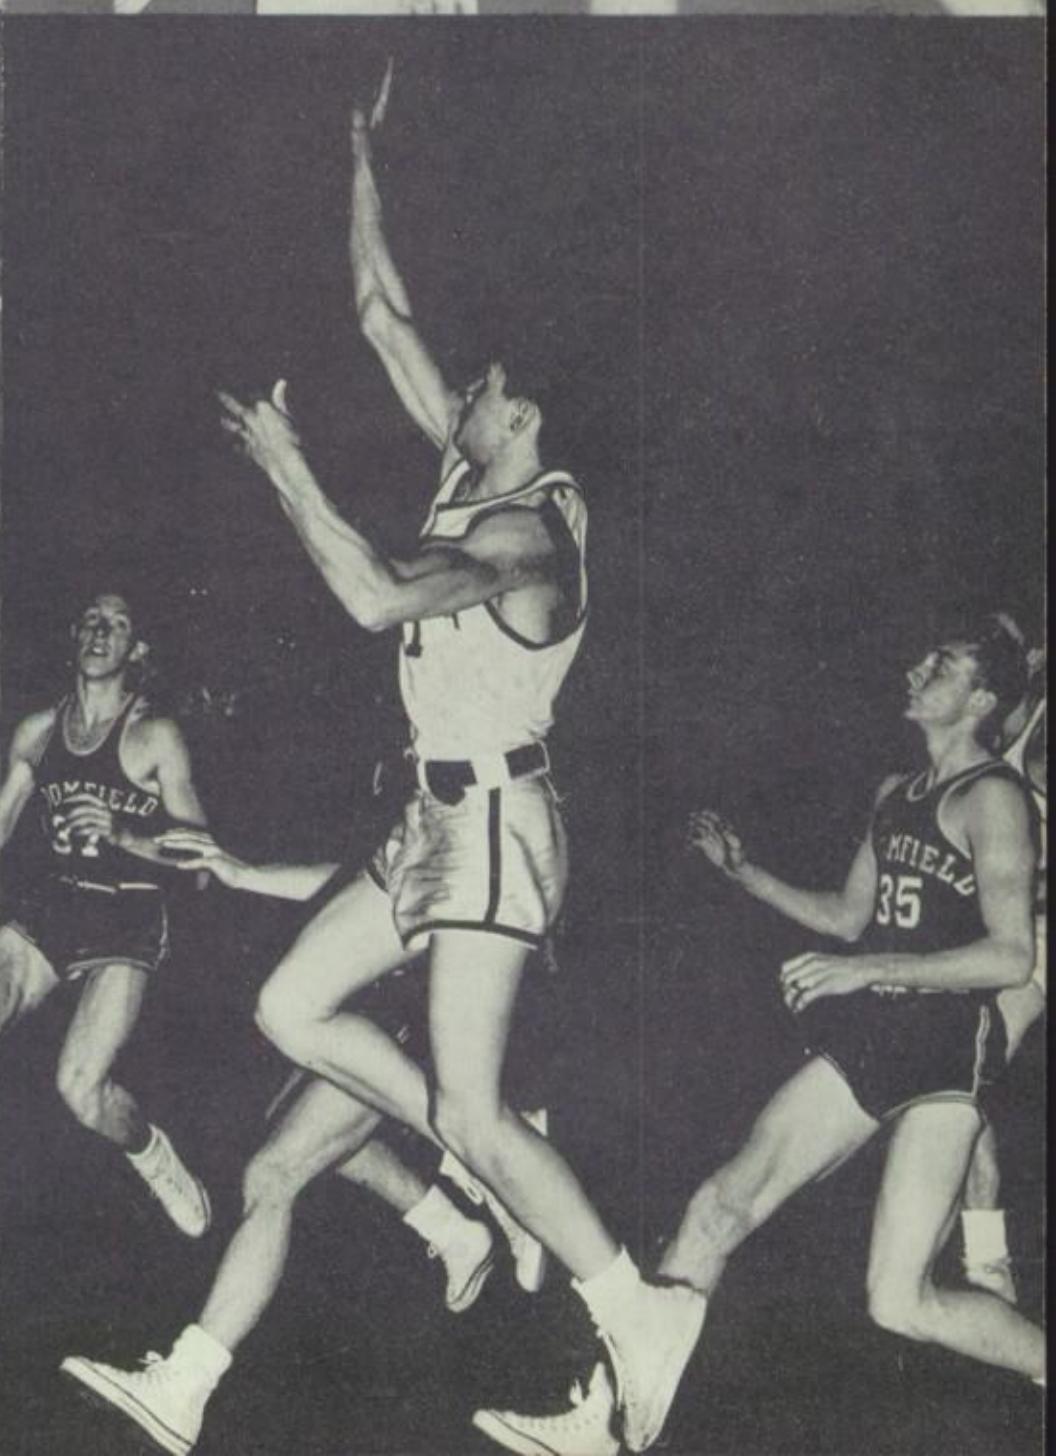

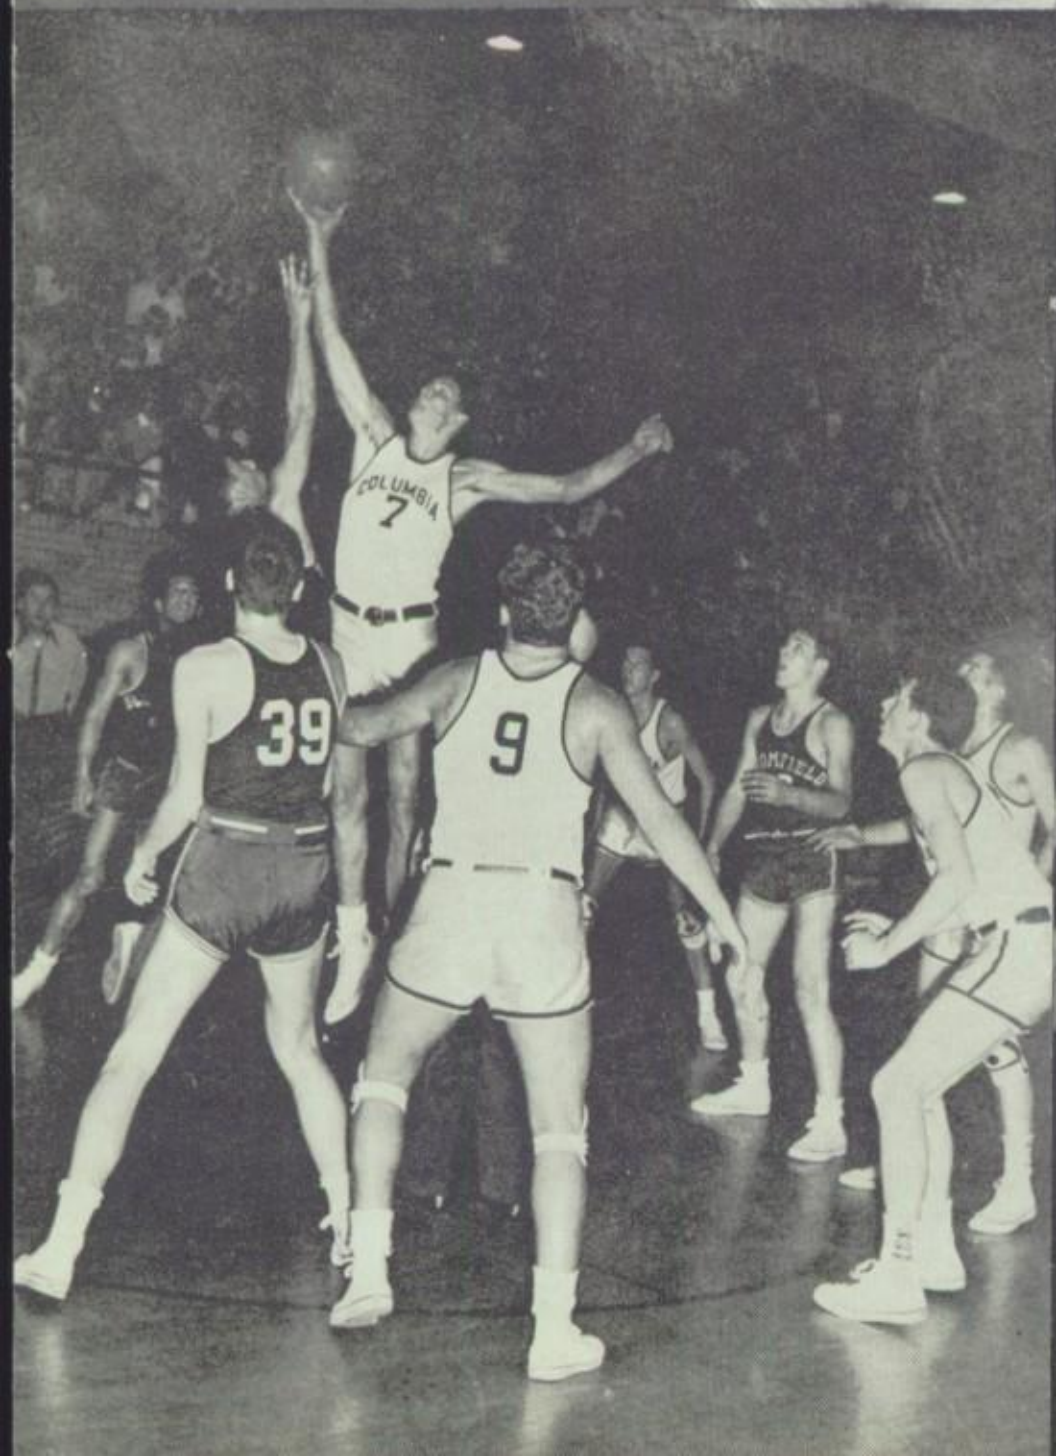

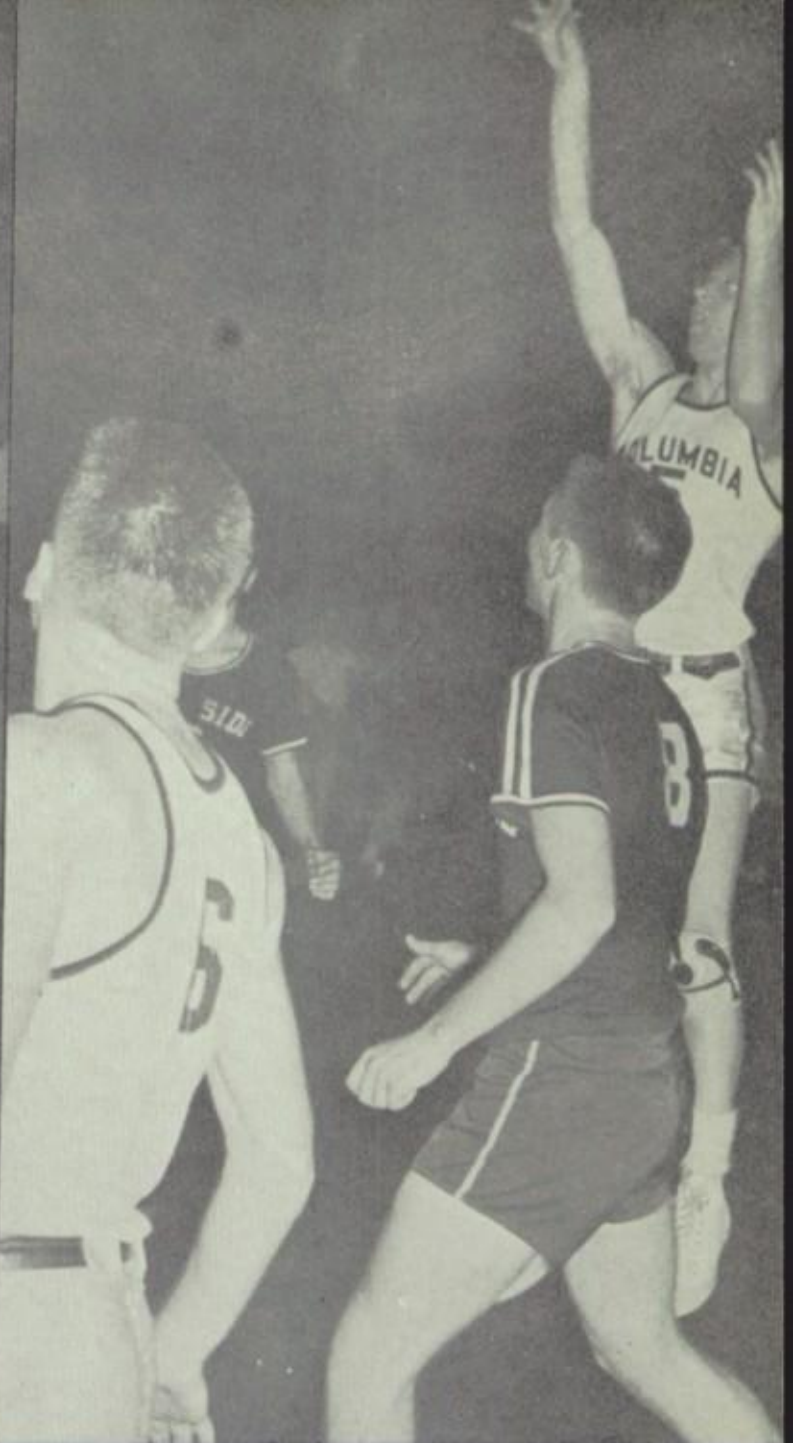

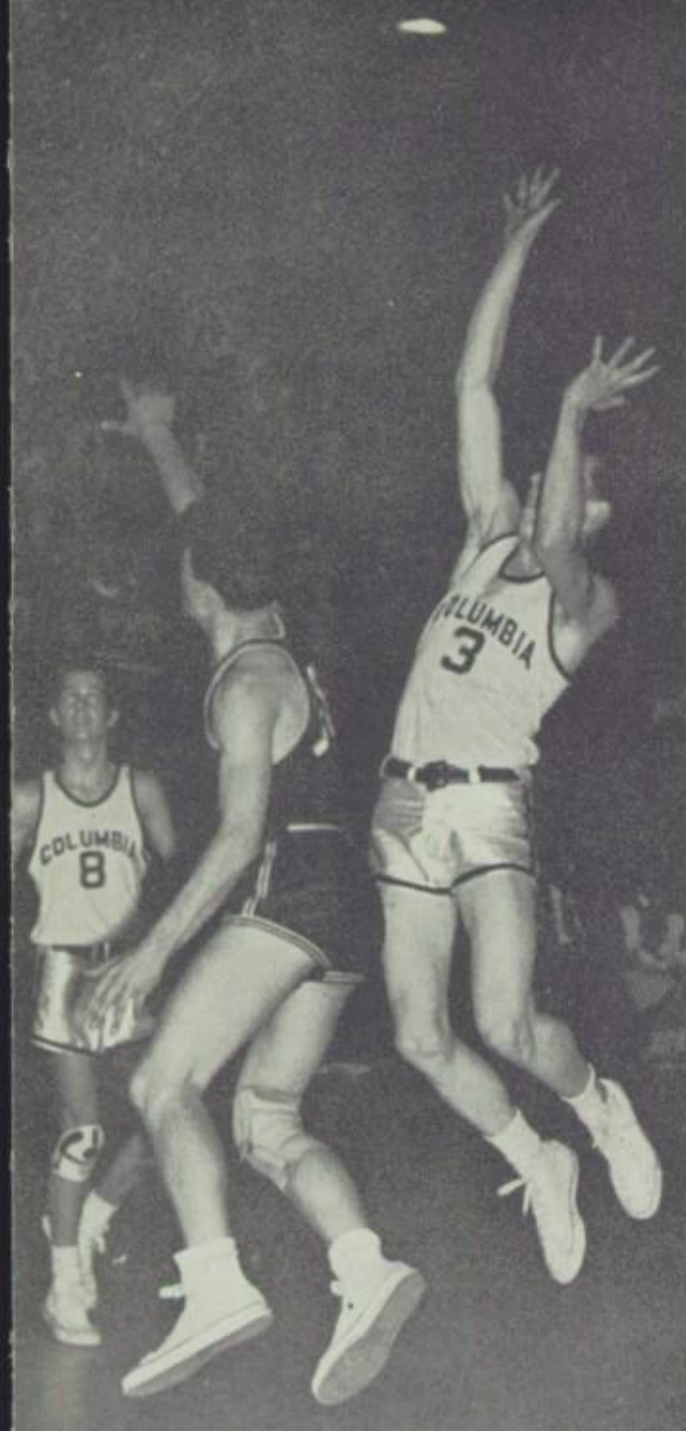

Lean Phil possessed a beautiful set shot besides being the No. 2 rebounder on the squad. Douglass also acted as playmaker on many occasions.

ARNIE BRIEF

Arnie was also a good shot but didn't see much action. However, Arnie came into his own in the last two tilts of the campaign.

JACK SAFIRSTEIN

Jack possessed about the best shooting percentage on the squad. His jump shot was a work of art.

GIRLS' SPORTS

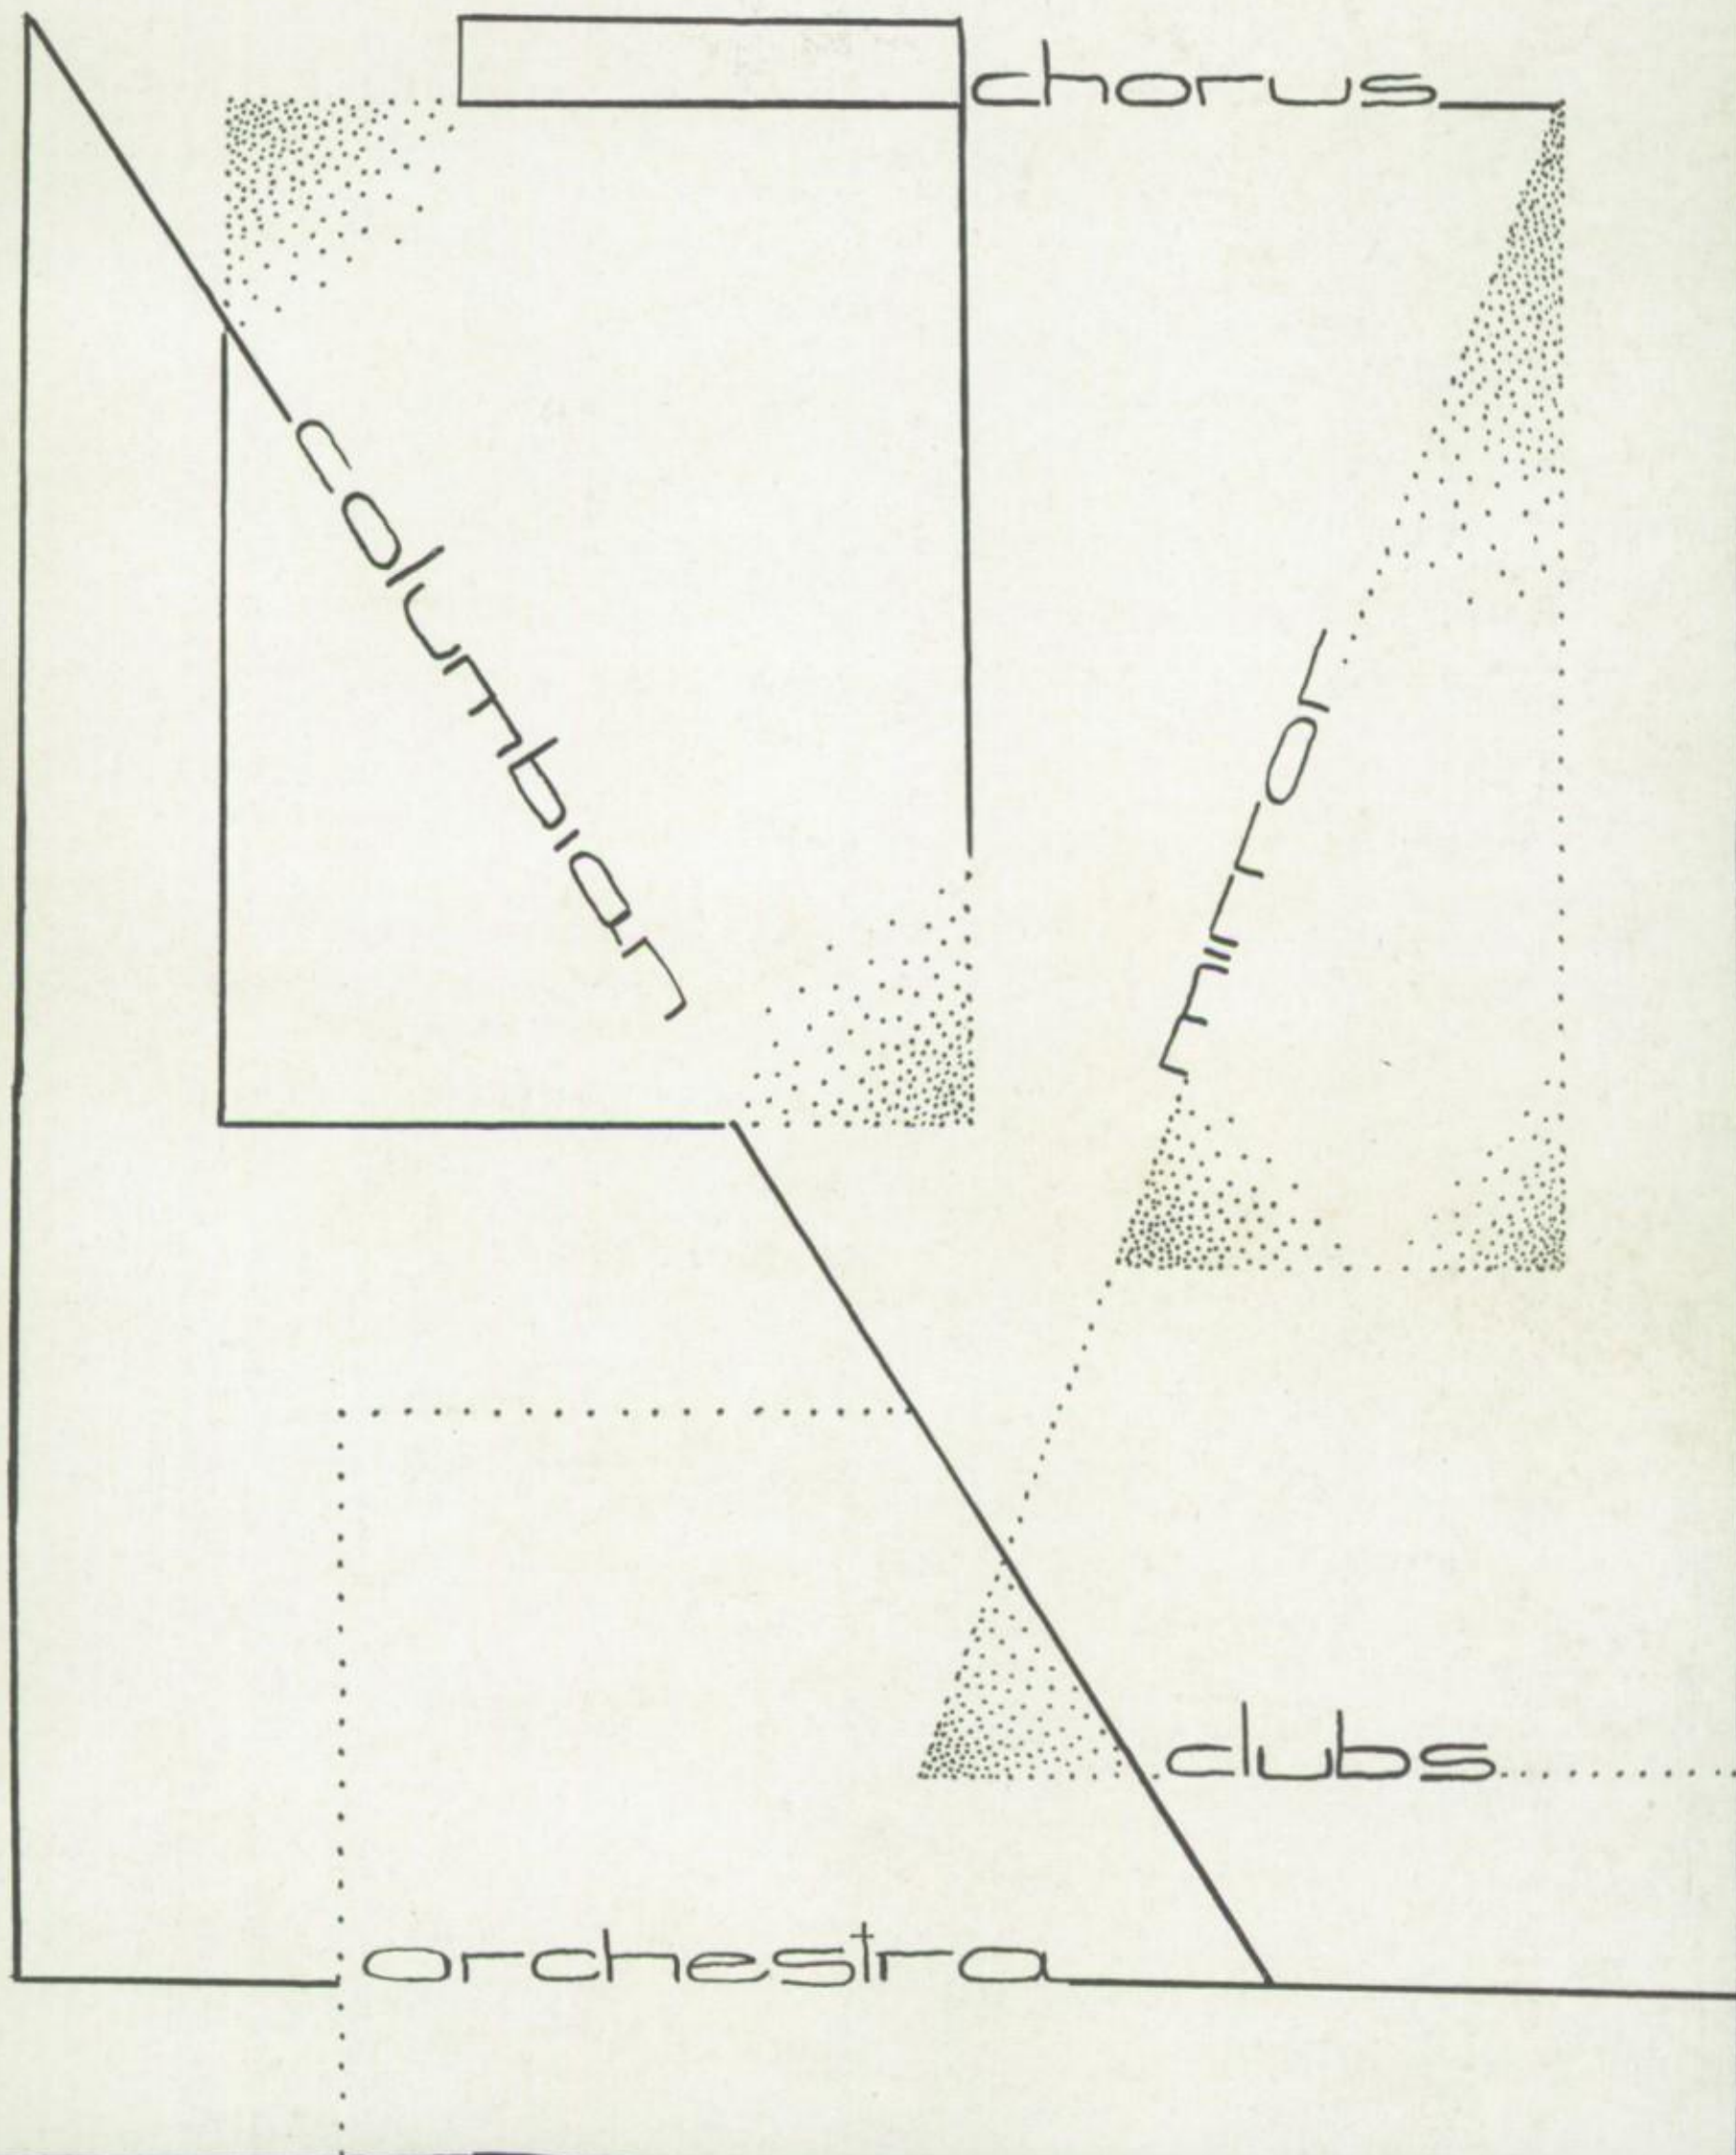

During our first year as members of G.A.A. there were many new things to learn. We wondered what a "punt," a "drop kick," and a "lift" were. Why? We were beginning our first lessons in speedball. As the months went by, we were introduced to many other G.A.A. activities; such as swimming, water ballet, and lifesaving for the water wing set. During the basketball season several of us participated in a game with the girls from East Orange. Then came volleyball, softball, and also dance club for the more graceful girls!

The following September many junior girls were sporting G.A.A. numerals and letters, which they had earned the previous year by attending after school practice sessions. During the year, two juniors attended the state G.A.A. party and returned with stories of an unforgettable day. They met girls from all over the state and joined in the many games that had been planned. To climax the year the class of '53 proudly walked off with the Class Banner at the final G.A.A. party.

Now, from the top rung of the G.A.A. ladder, we look back on our senior year. Seniors and juniors found themselves left out of the first party, which was organized as an open house to introduce the sophomores to G.A.A. But we weren't neglected for long. In October we attended a party that whipped up pep for Columbia's football team. During the basketball season, we seniors lost a thrilling game to the alumnae. The year 1953 was a busy one and the seasons passed by quickly—full of parties, sports, and fun.

PARNASSIAN SOCIETY

The Parnassian Society, under the direction of Miss Mildred F. Memory, presented "The Saints Return" on December 23.

The message of "The Saints Return" is one of hope. Despairing of conditions in the world, a group of saints have left their posts throughout the world and gathered at Saints' Rest, the half-way house to Heaven. They must decide whether to continue their journey to Heaven or to return to earth, torn by war and hatred. The saints have almost convinced themselves that the world is lost, when an old man and a young mother, who have fled their oppressed country, come to the Saints' Rest. The saints offer them the opportunity to leave the world behind and continue the climb upward to Heaven, but the two refuse to believe that there is no hope for the world and insist on returning to earth. The faith of these two mortals makes the saints realize that they must not abandon the world; and, as the curtain falls, they begin their journey back to earth.

The play was very enjoyable, and we all were impressed by the fine acting.
